

Palliative Care, Person Centred
Care and Keeping People at Home

Dr Luke Gaffney
Director of Medicine THS
September 2015

The paradox that people want to be actively saved if they are near death, but also want to die peacefully - seems to be rooted in a pretty profound medical illiteracy:

